Hank Plona

Our 43rd Annual Steak & Burger Dinner guest speaker is Coach Hank Plona: WKU Head Men's Basketball Coach, Joe B. Hall Award finalist & Avon, Connecticut native.

Coaching Career

Coach Plona's coaching career started off with his role as a student manager and graduate assistant at Providence College. He would then head to Arkansas Fort-Smith and then Indian Hills CC for one season each and further his coaching career by becoming an Assistant Coach. In 2011, he accepted the assistant coaching position at South Plains College. During the 4 seasons he was there South Plains made 3 national tournament appearances, won the national title in 2012 with an undefeated record, and made it to the championship game again in 2015! That same year he accepted his first head coaching position back at Indian Hills CC. During his 8 seasons as Head Coach, he experienced amazing success. He helped lead them to 8 consecutive ICCAC regular-season titles, 6 postseason conference titles and the NJCAA National Tournament 7 times. He left Indian Hills with a 225-35 record and they qualified for NJCAA National Tournament 7 of those 8 seasons. In his last season, he led them to a semifinal run at the 2023 NJCAA National Tournament, the team's best finish since 2014. Several of his players are currently playing professionally around the globe, and he was named ICCAC Coach of the Year 4 times. In 2023, Plona accepted the assistant coaching job under Coach Steve Lutz, and in 2024 he became the WKU Men's Head Basketball Coach. During his 1st season, he was a finalist for the prestigious Joe B. Hall Award due to his leadership. He's currently on his third season as head coach with the Toppers and looking to continue his storied success.
